

International Development Program Fellowships and Awards File Index

Updated: October 2005

Academic Council on the United Nations System

Dissertation Award Program, E-mail: acuns@wlu.ca Program URL:

<http://www.acuns.wlu.ca/programs/Diss.Awards/dissertationawardapplication2004.pdf>

The sponsor provides a $10,000 dissertation award to a Ph.D., J.D., or LL.M. candidate working on United Nations (UN)- related issues to support the actual writing of a dissertation or the equivalent. The candidate may be from any university and spend the award wherever would be the most profitable. The application deadline is February 11, 2005. ACUNS DISSERTATION AWARD PROGRAM 2005-2006: Due to fiscal constraints, this award will not be offered this year. We continue to pursue other avenues for funding and plan to offer this award again in 2006.

Academy for Educational Development

1875 Connecticut Avenue, NW, Suite 900, Washington, DC 20009-1202, (202) 884-8051; fax: (202) 884-8408; <http://newvoices.aed.org>

- The New Voices Fellowship Program is a capacity-building and leadership development grant program that assists nonprofit organizations and professionals entering the fields of human rights and international cooperation. Sponsored program areas include international human rights, women's rights, racial justice/civil rights, migrant and refugee rights, international peace and security, foreign policy, and international economic policy. The application deadline is January 10, 2005. No new deadline information is available on the website. Program staff are available to answer questions. Please call 202-884-8051 or e-mail us at newvoice@aed.org

- David L Boren Graduate Fellowship: NSEP Graduate International Fellowships enable U.S. graduate students to pursue specialization in area and language study or to add an important international dimension to their education. NSEP fellowships support students pursuing the study of languages, cultures, and world regions which are critical to U.S. national security, but which are less frequently studied by U.S. graduate students, i.e. areas of the world other than Western Europe, Canada, Australia and New Zealand. Email: nsep@aed.org. www.aed.org/nsep. http://nsep.aed.org/Application_2006_NSEP_fillable.pdf Deadline: January 30, 2006. Applicant may contact the Office of Merit Awards for help in developing their applications.

Advocacy Institute

1629 K Street NW, Suite 200, Washington, DC 20006-1629, (202) 777-7575; fax: (202) 777-7577 or (202) 659-8475; E-mail: info@advocacy.org. www.advocacy.org.

The Advocacy Institute is a U.S.-based global institution dedicated to strengthening the capacity of political, social, and economic justice advocates to influence and change public policy. The Angie Martin Fellowship is a paid, full-time, six-month Fellowship at the Advocacy Institute in Washington, DC. This fellowship nurtures young social change advocates and promotes citizen advocacy.

<http://www.advocacy.org/about/angiemartin.htm> for more information, email: Angie Martin Public Interest Fellowship: AMFellows@advocacy.org

American Association for the Advancement of Science

1200 New York Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20005, (202) 326-6400; E-mail: webmaster@aaas.org; <http://fellowships.aaas.org>.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science, AAAS, is the world's largest general science organization. AAAS attempts to bridge the gap between scientists, policy-makers, and the public in order to advance science and science education. The AAAS is currently offering three different fellowship opportunities that relate to international development: the Roger Revelle Fellowship in Global Stewardship (one award), the Environmental Fellowship (ten awards), and the Diplomacy Fellowship (fifteen awards). All of the fellowships are located in the Washington D.C. area and have a stipend of $62,000 or more. The application deadline for all of the fellowships is January 10 of each year.

American Association of University Women Educational Foundation

1111 Sixteenth Street NW, Washington, DC, 20036, 1-800-326-AAUW, fax: (202) 872-1425; E-mail: info@aauw.org; www.aauw.org.

The American Association of University Women (AAUW) is a national organization that promotes education and equity for all women and girls. The AAUW Educational Foundation is one of the nation's largest sources of private funding for educational programs that directly benefit women and girls. The Foundation funds pioneering research on girls and education, community action projects, and fellowships and grants for outstanding women around the globe. The AAUW Educational Foundation is currently seeking panelists for the International Fellowships (Deadline: December 1, 2005), American Fellowships (Deadline: November 15, 2005), Selected Professions Fellowships (Deadline: January 10, 2006), Eleanor Roosevelt Teacher Fellowships (Not available this year; please check website for further information), Community Action Grants (Deadline: January 15, 2006), and Career Development Grants (Deadline: December 15, 2005) panels. Vitae applications for 2005 appointments must be postmarked by the corresponding deadline date. Vitae postmarked after that date will be held for future appointments.

American Center of Oriental Research

656 Beacon Street, 5th Floor, Boston, MA 02215, (617) 353-6571, Fax: (617) 353-6575, Email: acor@bu.edu, www.bu.edu/acor

- ACOR-CAORC Fellowship: Five or more two- to six-month fellowships for M.A. and pre-doctoral students. Fields of study include all areas of the humanities and the natural and social sciences. Topics should contribute to scholarship in Near Eastern studies. U.S. citizenship required. Maximum award is $19,400. Subject to funding. Application deadline: February 1, 2006.
- ACOR-CAORC Post-Graduate Fellowship: Three or more two- to six-month fellowships for post-doctoral scholars and scholars with a terminal degree in their field, pursuing research or publication projects in the natural and social sciences, humanities, and associated disciplines relating to the Near East. U.S. citizenship required. Maximum award is $25,000. Subject to funding. Application deadline: February 1, 2006.

American Civil Liberties Union

ACLU of Illinois, 180 North Michigan #2300, Chicago, IL 60601-1287, (312) 201-9740; fax: (312) 201-9760. <http://aclu-il.org>

For full listing of legal fellowships, see <http://www.aclu.org/jobs/jobslst.cfm?c=259>

Through coordinated litigation, public education, and lobbying, the ACLU of Illinois works to protect and expand civil liberties. The legal program has nine attorneys. The general civil liberties docket focuses on free speech, association, religion, privacy and equality issues. Special projects are: Children's Rights, Institutionalized Persons, Racial Justice, Reproductive Rights, Lesbian and Gay Rights and HIV and Civil Liberties.

- The ACLU's Ira Glasser Racial Justice Project Fellowship addresses discrimination in the front-end of the criminal justice system with a focus on street level law enforcement and racial profiling, and voting rights litigation challenging the inequality in state-wide voting systems. The Racial Justice Fellow will assist senior staff counsel in all aspects of civil rights litigation, including trial and appellate work. The Fellow will also do public speaking and work on legislative matters. Six fellowships are available for up to two years. No new information available. Check website for updates.

- The Applied Research Fellow in Civil Liberties and National Security will provide research support for the ACLU's efforts to prevent the erosion of rights in the name of national security. The docket includes cases that implicate novel issues under the First, Fourth, and Fifth Amendments. Working with litigators in the National Legal Department and Immigrants' Rights Project, the Applied Research Fellow's responsibilities will include legal and factual research, interviewing clients, serving as a resource for ACLU legislative and policy work, and advancing ACLU policy goals through public education, organizing, and participating in coalitions. The Applied Research Fellow will also participate in regular meetings of the ACLU's national security working group. The Applied Research fellowship will start in September 2006 and end in late August 2008. Applications must be postmarked by November 30, 2005.

American Council of Learned Societies

633 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10017-6795 (212) 697-1505, fax: (212) 949-8058 <http://www.acls.org>

Southeast European Language Training Grants: Individuals may apply for grants of up to $2,000 each for summer study of Albanian, Bosnian-Croatian-Serbian, Bulgarian, Macedonian, or Romanian. Applicants should present proposals for attendance at intensive courses offered by institutions of higher education in the U.S., or, in exceptional cases, for study at the advanced level in courses in Southeastern Europe. The application deadline for Summer 2006 is January 17, 2006.

American Councils for International Education

1776 Massachusetts Avenue NW, Suite 700, Washington, DC, 20036, (202) 833-7522, fax: (202) 833-7523; E-mail: outbound@americancouncils.org, www.americancouncils.org .

- Title VIII Southeast European Research Program provides fellowship support for research or a combination of research and language-study in any of the following countries: Albania, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Romania, Croatia, Macedonia, and Serbia-Montenegro. Grants provide funding for international airfare, insurance, housing, living stipends, visa support if necessary, tuition, and affiliation fees for three to nine months. The total value of the awards ranges from $8,000 to $25,000. Applicants must be Ph.D. candidates or post-doctoral scholars who have language proficiency sufficient to carry out their proposed research. All applicants must be U.S. citizens or permanent residents intending to conduct research and/or language study for at least three months.

Fall and Academic Year Programs: January 15

Spring and Summer Programs: October 1

- Title VIII Research Scholar Program provides full support for graduate students, faculty, and independent scholars seeking to conduct research for three months to nine months in Belarus, Central Asia, Russia, the South Caucasus, Ukraine, and Moldova. Scholars may apply for support to research in more than one country during a single trip, provided they intend to work in the field for a total of three to nine months. (Those scholars seeking support for research and/or language study in the Baltic States or other countries of East-Central Europe should apply to the Title VIII Research and Language Training Programs for East-Central Europe). The total value of Title VIII Research Scholar fellowships ranges from $5,000 to $25,000. Applications for fall and academic year programs are due on January 15. The applications for spring and summer programs are due on October 1.

American India Foundation

*American India Foundation; c/o McKinsey & Company; 55 East 52nd Street, 29th floor;
New York, NY 10022; (212) 891-4654, fax: (212) 891-4717, email:
nandini.ansari@aifoundation.org.
www.aifoundation.org/site/Programs/ServiceCorps/index.html.*

The Service Corps Fellowship is a selective program that builds bridges between America and India by sending talented and skilled young Americans to work with leading non-governmental organizations in India for a period of ten months. The program serves as an exchange of technical skills and intellectual resources which aims to build the capacity of Indian NGOs while developing American leaders with an understanding of India. The experience is designed to enable committed individuals to make a deep impact in the development sector by working with various Indian NGOs striving to advance social and economic change in India. The Fellowship runs from September to June each year.

During this time, the Fellows immerse themselves with organizations working on causes related to livelihood, primary education, public health, and human rights. For all questions concerning the Service Corps Fellowship, please contact Program Director Azad Oommen at azad.oommen@aifoundation.org. The application deadline is January 31, 2005. Please download the application form from the website. Please note that application submissions must only be made electronically, sent as an email attachment to SC@aifoundation.org.

The American Society for Clinical Nutrition

9650 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, MD, 20814-3998, (301) 530-7110, fax: (301) 571-1863; E-mail: secretar@ascn.faseb.org. <http://www.ascn.org/>

The American Society for Clinical Nutrition is an organization devoted to the research and publication of basic and clinical studies relevant to human nutrition. The Norman Kretchmer Memorial Award in Nutrition and Development is given to a young investigator (aged 45 years or younger at the time the award is presented), for a substantial body of independent research in the field of nutrition and development with potential relevance to improving child health. A cash award and inscribed medal are provided by the Ross Products Division, Abbott Laboratories. The nomination award forms are located on the web at www.faseb.org/ascn/awardsform.htm. The organization requests that this form be printed out, completed, and returned with five completed copies, letters, and curriculum vitae by the deadline. Check website for updates.

<http://www.ascn.org/awards.pdf>

The American University

Graduate Student Association, 4400 Massachusetts Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20016, (202) 885-2601; Email: unaban@yahoo.com.

<http://www.american.edu/glc/site/Content.cfm>

The American University's Graduate Leadership Council awards non-competitive research grants each semester to assist in approved research activities. Such activities include conferences, publications, dissertations, theses, SRPs, etc. These grants are available to registered graduate students at the American University only. Applications are due to the GSA office by 5:00 pm on November 15 and April 3 during the academic year. Grants are handled by the Office of the Vice President, Jeanette Contreras.

Ashoka Fellows

1700 North Moore St., Suite 1920, Arlington, VA 22209, (703) 527-8300 ext.40, fax: (703) 527-8383 Email: info@ashoka.org <http://www.ashoka.org>

Email: USProgram@ashoka.org

Ashoka Fellows is an international nonprofit program that supports social entrepreneurs "with a big, new idea" in Asia, Latin America, Africa, and East Central Europe. Ashoka Fellows focus their talents on serving the public good by creating projects with a broad social impact on issues such as health, environment, education, legal rights, women, children, and development. No application deadline specified. Visit website for more information.

The Asian Pacific American Institute for Congressional Studies

2445 M Street, NW, C/O The Interface Group, Ltd., Suite 250, Washington, DC, 20037,
(202) 296-9200, E-mail apaics@aiaics.org. www.apaics.org.

The George Aratani/Daniel K. Inouye Fellowship Program and the Anheuser-Busch/Frank Horton Fellowship are designed to provide a unique opportunity to an outstanding graduate student who has a commitment to the Asian American and Pacific Islander communities, and who plans to pursue a public policy career. The fellow will spend nine months in Washington, D.C., either in the office of a Congressional member, a Congressional committee, or a federal agency. Applicants must be legal U.S. citizens or have legal permanent residency and must apply by January 31, 2005 for the Summer of 2005, and February 15, 2005 for the 2005-2006 academic years. Check website to download the application. If you have questions, please contact Daphne Kwok, APAICS Executive Directory, by email at dkwok@apaics.org.

The Bank of Namibia Research Fellowship

IASA Executive Committee; P.O. Box 1868; Jamaica Plain, MA 02130 USA; email: info@iasaonline.org.

The IASA Africa Fellowship Program works with non-profit organizations and private sector companies in Africa to create constructive opportunities for talented Africans and those interested in Africa to contribute to the development of the continent. The IASA fellowship program matches students and professionals with organizations based in Africa to participate in short-term fellowships. The organizations would benefit with the fellow's knowledge and skills, as well as commitment and desire to learn. This is a three-month fellowship at the central Bank of Namibia (BoN)'s Research Department. The fellow will conduct research (there will be some writing) on various economic topics affecting the Namibian economy and might be called upon to propose workable solutions and strategies for implementing suggestions. Program no longer in existence.

Bonn International Center for Conversion (BICC) Fellowship

An der Elisabethkirche 25, D - 53113 Bonn, Germany. Telephone: (49) 228-911 96-0, fax: (49)228-24 12 15, E-mail: internship@bicc.de. <http://www.bicc.de/info/fellowship.html>

The Bonn International Center for Conversion (BICC) Fellowship is a fully funded seven-month program located in Bonn, Germany. Fellows are expected to participate in BICC's general activities and to conduct a research project of their own design under the guidance of a senior researcher/project leader. Possible research subjects do not necessarily have to correspond to BICC's current research priorities, but must come from the more general fields of disarmament, conversion, and peace policies. This fellowship is primarily for doctoral or post-doctoral work. This fellowship ended in 2004.

British Council

The British Council Ukraine, c.o. Mailing Section, 10 Spring Gardens, London SW1A2BN <http://www.britishcouncil.org/egypt-education-scholarships-chevening.htm>

The Chevening Scholarship is the British Government's top scholarship scheme, and is awarded only to Egypt's brightest and most promising graduates and professionals. Up to 50 Chevening scholarships are offered by the British Embassy each year to enable Egyptians to undertake postgraduate study in the UK, giving them the opportunity to become familiar with the UK and gain skills that will be of direct benefit to Egypt on their return. Most awards are for Masters programs, but awards for short courses or research (between 3 and 12 months) are also offered. Applications are invited for study in all subject areas, however priority will be given to the following: Sustainable Development; Environment; Human rights and Good Governance; Economics; Finance and Banking; Media; Politics and International law.

Deadline ended September 30, 2005.

CARE USA Fellowship Program

151 Ellis Street, NE, Atlanta, GA 30303-2426; (404) 681-2552, fax: (404) 577-9418

<http://www.careusa.org/careers/fellowship.asp>

CARE is a private, non-profit organization which helps needy Third World populations survive and reach self-sufficiency through self-help development projects. The CARE USA Fellowship Program is designed to develop motivated and skilled individuals who reflect and understand the countries in which CARE works. The Fellowship Program offers a two-year professional opportunity for up to six fellows providing on-the-job experience, international exposure, and management training. No longer offering this program. Check in the future to see if it will be offered again.

The Carter Center

Peter Mather, PhD; Director, Educational Programs; 453 Freedom Parkway; One Copenhill; Atlanta, GA 30307; (404) 420-5179, fax: (404) 420-5196.

www.cartercenter.org; http://www.cartercenter.org/aboutus/education_doc.htm

The Carter Center is the headquarters for Jimmy Carter's post-presidential activities. The Carter Center seeks to alleviate human suffering around the world. Activities include resolving conflicts, monitoring elections, advocating for transparency in government, fighting disease, reducing poverty, and seeking justice for political prisoners and for persons suffering from mental illness. Each year, The Carter Center Internship Program admits students for internships in one of three sessions: fall, spring, and summer. Most interns work in the Peace Programs area, monitoring activities and writing reports on assigned countries, assisting with planning international conference meetings, and occasional short-term travel with Carter Center staff. The deadlines are: for fall (September - December)--June 15; spring (January - May)--October 15; and summer (June - August)--March 1 (NEW DEADLINE).

You may also contact us by phone (404-420-5179), or by fax (404-420-5196)

Catholic Relief Services

209 West Fayette Street, Baltimore, MD 21201-3443, (410) 625-2220, fax: (410) 685-1635 www.catholicrelief.org.

http://www.crs.org/about_us/careers/fellowship_opportunities/index.cfm

The Catholic Relief Services offers one fellowship: The International Development Fellows Program. The International Development Fellows Program is intended to give people who are interested in a career in international relief and development an opportunity to increase their overseas experience and gain broad exposure to CRS programs. For more information see the CRS website. The application for the next Fellows session is now available on-line until December 2005. All interested candidates must apply on-line. Unlike in previous years, CRS will not be accepting applications or conducting formal interviews during our visits to universities. We will instead do phone interviews over the next 3-4 months for those individuals who qualify. Please note we will also be testing language ability, based on your stated level in your application, during the same phone interview. CRS will still be visiting universities this year primarily to provide information about the Fellows program, and answer any questions you may have about the selection process. We look forward to receiving your on-line application and meeting you when we come to visit your university this fall. A list of universities we intend to visit this year will be available on-line shortly.

Center for Electoral Promotion (CAPEL)

Democracy Fellowship (CAPEL); World Learning; 1015 15th Street, NW, Suite 750; Washington, DC 20005; fax: (202) 408-5397, email: dfp.info@worldlearning.org. www.worldlearning.org/wlid/consult/dfp_capel.html. <http://www.worldlearning.org/>

CAPEL is seeking a Fellow to aid in further strategizing where, geographically and technically, it should focus its political party development program. The Fellow will assist CAPEL to: clearly identify its role and strategic vision for political party reform, update its mission, develop both short and long term action plans with benchmarks for progress, and assure mechanisms for sustainability. In addition to U.S. citizenship and a graduate degree (Master's or J.D. minimum), the Fellow should have the following qualifications: extensive experience with strategic planning, workshop facilitation, and training; research and institutional assessment experience; fluency in written and oral Spanish and ability to work in San Jose, Costa Rica; familiarity with Latin America and the Caribbean, and strong knowledge of the region's political party systems. Experience with USAID is preferable. Applications and further information are available on the website. Please note that this fellowship has ended.

Center for International Private Enterprise Academic Fellows Program

Jorge Amselle, Public Liaison, Center for International Private Enterprise, 1155 15th Street, NW, Washington, DC 20005; Tel: 202-721-9200 (x225), fax: 202-721-9250, email: jamselle@cipe.org <http://www.cipe.org/about/jobs/index.htm>

The Center for International Private Enterprise (CIPE) is seeking qualified applicants for its Academic Fellows program to assist in our global communications programs. A key aspect of CIPE's mission is to help democratic and economic reformers around the globe showcase successful programs and learn about best practices from one another.

Applicants should possess effective writing and editing skills, familiarity with MS Office and internet programs, and an active interest in promoting democratic development through market-oriented reform. CIPE is an affiliate of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and one of the four core institutes of the National Endowment for Democracy. This position is unpaid. Please send resume and 2 writing samples to Jorge Amselle at jamselle@cipe.org. No phone calls please. Not currently offering this position.

Please check website for updates and new opportunities.

Center for International Security and Cooperation

Encina Hall, Stanford, CA 94305-6165, (650) 723-9625, fax: (650) 724-5683; E-mail: barbara.platt@stanford.edu. <http://cisac.stanford.edu/fellow/index.html>.

The Center for International Security and Cooperation (CISAC), a part of Stanford University's Institute for International Studies, is a multidisciplinary community dedicated to the research and training of issues in international security. The CISAC has established two international fellowship programs that bring outstanding young scholars to Stanford University to work on issues relating to international security. The Hamburg Fellowship focuses on the prevention of deadly conflict, while the Pre/Postdoctoral Fellowship allows for a broader range of theses and research. The application deadline for both programs is February 1, 2005. Must have attained or be working toward a Ph.D.

The Charles Bannerman Memorial Fellowship Program

Charles Bannerman Memorial Fellowship Program, 1627 Lancaster St., Baltimore, MD 21231, (410)327-6220. <http://www.alstonbannerman.org>.

The Charles Bannerman Memorial Fellowship Program supports long-time activists of color. Candidates must be a person of color, a resident of the United States or its territories, have at least 10 years experience as a community activist, and must be committed to continuing to work for social change. The program supports activists that have helped to build community organizations that address significant social and economic issues, acknowledge the cultural values of the community, and that have had tangible success. Activists should demonstrate a strong commitment to grass-roots leadership development and have contributed to building a movement for social change. To request an application, please write to the address listed above. The deadline to mail your application is December 1st.

The Congressional Black Caucus Foundation's Congressional Fellows Program

Congressional Black Caucus Foundation, Congressional Fellows Program, 1004 Pennsylvania Avenue SE, Washington, DC 20003, <http://www.cbcfinc.org/Leadership%20Education/Fellowships/congressional.html>

The CBCF Fellows Program is an in-depth nine-month Fellowship that allows for greater research and public policy analysis opportunities. It was established after the Committee on House Administration released a report finding that Black professionals were seriously under-represented on Capitol Hill. Fellows gain invaluable experience in assisting in the development of legislative and public policy initiatives while working as congressional staff. Fellows work 40 hours per week on a range of staff assignments, including research and analysis, responding to constituent mail, drafting legislation, and coordinating logistics and public testimony for Congressional hearings. Stipends are comparable to most first-year congressional staff, and fellows are responsible for their own travel, housing, and other associated expenses. The stipend for 2000-2001 was $25,000 over the nine-month period. The program dates for the Congressional Fellows Program are September 1, 2005, to May 6, 2006. The application deadline is April 2, 2005. All applications must be mailed to CBCF and postmarked on or before this date. All applications postmarked after April 2, 2005, will not be considered.

The Congressional Hunger Center

Mickey Leland – Bill Emerson National Hunger Fellows Program, 229 ½ Pennsylvania Avenue SE, Washington, DC 20003, (202) 547-7022 x. 11; fax: (202) 547-7575.

www.hungercenter.org

The Congressional Hunger Center seeks applicants to participate in its two-year Mickey Leland International Fellows Program. Fellows spend one year in a developing country working for an established non-government organization (NGO), government, or multilateral agency, and then spend a second year working in Washington, D.C. on international policies that address hunger and poverty. The program cultivates leadership and professional skills, gives exposure to international and national development arenas, and provides links to a vast network of development professionals. Applicants must be U.S. citizens with a bachelor's degree, a graduate degree (or significant experience fighting hunger), foreign language skills as needed by the particular assignment, and 6 months of continuous anti-poverty/sustainable development work in a developing country. Recruitment for the 4th Class of Fellows will begin during the fall of 2006. The deadline for applications for the 4th Class will be on or around January 15, 2007. Please re-visit the website for further information and updates on the recruitment and application process. Any questions or requests for information can be directed to Jose Ravano, Co-Director Mickey Leland International Hunger Fellows Program at (202) 547-7022 ext. 11 or jravano@hungercenter.org.

The Coro Fellows Program

220 Sansome Street, 4th Floor, San Francisco, CA, 94104, (415) 986-0521, fax: (415) 986-5522; E-mail: tjones@coro.org. <http://www.coro.org/>.

The Coro Fellows Program is a full time, graduate-level program conducted each year in Los Angeles, New York, St. Louis, and San Francisco. Forty-eight participants, twelve at each center, are selected from a national pool of approximately 400 applicants. The program offers intensive, experienced-based leadership training in public affairs. For nine months, Coro Fellows spend at least 50 hours a week in a unique series of internships, interviews, public service projects, and seminars. Fellows are encouraged to view the program as their laboratory; to experiment with and experience life in the public affairs arena. Applicants should be between 21 to 45 years of age and be committed to public service. The application deadline for the 2006-2007 Fellows Program beginning in September 2006 is JANUARY 6, 2006.

Cosmos Club Foundation

Vera A. Faulkner, Director of Programs, Attention: CCF Grants-In-Aid to Scholars Program, Consortium of Universities of the Washington Metropolitan Area, One Dupont Circle NW, Suite 200, Washington, DC 20036-1110; fax: (202) 331-7925; Email: Faulkner@consortium.org. http://www.consortium.org/cosmos_club_grants.asp.

The purpose of this program is to provide small grants to meet specific research needs not covered by other supporting funds. Examples of appropriate needs are small items of equipment (ordinarily expendable), special supplies, travel to research facilities, or to attend relevant meetings, etc. Specifically excluded are general financial support, tuition, living expenses (except in connection with supported travel), and expenses that reasonably should have been foreseen and provided for in planning the degree program.

Ten grants of $3000 will be awarded. Applications are due on Friday November 4, 2005.

Davis-Putter Scholarship Fund

Davis-Putter Scholarship Fund, Jan Phillips, Secretary, 25 Main Street, Belleville, NJ 07109 email: davisputter@hotmail.com, <http://www.actionforchange.org/getrecognized/davis-putter.html>.

The Davis-Putter Scholarship Fund has provided need-based grants to student activists who are able to do academic work at the college level and are involved in building the movement for social and economic justice. Davis-Putter grantees are both graduate and undergraduate students who are enrolled in an accredited school for the period covered by their grant. Although U.S. citizenship is not a consideration, applicants must live in the United States and plan to enroll in an accredited program in the U.S. in order to qualify. There is a strong preference for grantees that plan to stay in the U.S. and build the progressive movement here. The maximum grant is $6,000 and may be considerably smaller depending on the applicant's circumstances and the amount of funding available. All of the funds for scholarships come from the contributions of individual donors.

Applications and supporting materials must be postmarked by April 1. Decisions will be announced in July.

Donald Turner Residency Program

One Hawthorne Street, Suite 400, San Francisco, CA 94105, (415) 989-1111; fax: (415) 495-4898; Email: info@bridgehousing.com.

<http://www.bridgehousing.com/residency/index.html>

or <http://www.upenn.edu/curexpenn/home.htm>.

The Donald Turner Residency Program is a two-year internship program sponsored by the BRIDGE Housing Corporation. Applicants should have a college degree, and some previous volunteer work or other job experience that demonstrates their commitment to community development. Participants receive $30,000 a year and benefits for their full-time labor. If you are interested in applying for the 2004 Turner Residency please send a resume and a letter of interest to hr@bridgehousing.com. Deadline was on Friday September 9, 2005.

Dorothy Danforth Compton Fellowships (Institute for the Study of World Politics)

Dorothy Danforth Compton Fellowship Competition, 1755 Massachusetts Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20036. Attention: Kenneth W. Thompson. Dorothy Compton

<http://www.comptonfoundation.org/fellowships.html>

In 2000 the Foundation redesigned its fellowship program to focus exclusively on students from developing countries, primarily Central and South America and sub-Saharan Africa. The primary goals of the Compton Graduate Fellowship Program are: 1) to increase and enhance professional capacity in developing countries in the fields of Peace & Security, Population & Reproductive Health, and Environment & Sustainability; and 2) to promote research-based linkages between these three fields. In order to accomplish these goals, the Foundation supports nine graduate programs that have achieved excellence, offer an interdisciplinary curriculum, and have a record of attracting students committed to returning to their home regions to conduct their research and pursue their careers. From 2004 through 2006 the Foundation will provide $1,350,000 for approximately 105 graduate fellowships, awarded by nine universities. Fellows are selected by the academic institutions, not by the Compton Foundation; please do not submit applications directly to the Foundation.

Echoing Green

Echoing Green; 60 East 42nd Street, Suite 520; New York, NY 10165; (212) 689-1165, fax: (212) 689-9010, email: info@echoinggreen.org.

www.echoinggreen.org/index.cfm?fuseaction=Page.viewPage&pageId=145.

Every year, Echoing Green accepts applications for its two-year fellowship program from all who satisfy the basic eligibility requirements and who have an innovative approach for addressing tough social challenges. Echoing Green's Fellows launch, manage, and grow organizations that implement and continually expand their ideas for creating lasting social change. During the two-year Fellowship, Echoing Green provides financial and technical support. Our application will remain open until 5 pm EST on the application due date, December 1st, 2005.

Emerging Markets Development Advisers Program

U.S Agency for International Development, Office of Emerging Markets, Economic Growth and Agricultural Development Center, Bureau of Global Affairs (G/EGAD/EH), RR 2.11-122, Washington, DC 20523 email: jucoker@usaid.gov Tel: 202-712-5363, Fax: 202-216-3025

<http://www.iie.org/Template.cfm?&Template=/programs/emdap/default.htm>

The EMDAP is an opportunity for U.S. graduate business students to provide management assistance to small and medium-sized enterprises in developing countries. During the ten-month assignments, MBA and graduate degree students gain invaluable international work experience as they contribute to USAID mission objectives abroad. Applicants must be U.S. citizens currently enrolled in an accredited graduate program. Each Adviser must return to complete business degree coursework after the period abroad. The applicant's U.S. academic institution must approve the ten-month leave between the first and second year of the business program and endorse the candidacy of the applicant. All materials must be received by January 10, 2005

Environmental Protection Agency

Corporate Environmental Behavior and the Effectiveness of Government Interventions

E-mail: clark.matthew@epa.gov

Program URL: http://es.epa.gov/ncer/rfa/2004/2004_corporate.html

The sponsor supports research in the area of Corporate Environmental Behavior (CEB). The current solicitation will focus on research to understand the decision making behavior of regulated entities in order to comply or avoid compliance with regulations, and improving the understanding of how regulated and non-regulated entities consider environmental costs. This program was completed in 2004.

Link to full program description: http://www.infoed.org/new_spin/spin_prog.asp?55729

Finnish Centre for International Mobility

CIMO Fellowships E-mail: cimoinfo@cimo.fi Web Site: <http://www.cimo.fi> Program URL: <http://finland.cimo.fi/scholarships.html>

The sponsor grants awards for young researchers (post-graduates after Masters level degree or post-doctorates) to Finnish universities. The objective is to encourage academic mobility to Finland and to promote international co-operation in research and teaching. The award period is 3-12 months. DEADLINE NOTE: Applications should be submitted at least 3 months before the intended fellowship period.

http://finland.cimo.fi/scholarships/postgraduate_studies_and_research/cimo_fellowships.html

Ford Foundation

320 East 43rd Street, New York, NY, 10017, (212)573-5000, fax: (212) 351-3677; E-mail: office-secretary@fordfound.org. <http://www7.nationalacademies.org/fellowships/>

The Ford Foundation is an organization that seeks to strengthen democratic values, reduce poverty and injustice, promote international cooperation, and advance human achievement worldwide. Most of the Foundation's grant funds are given to organizations. Although it also makes grants to individuals, they are few in number relative to demand and are limited to research, training, and other activities related to its program interests. There is no formal application. Instead, we suggest that a brief letter of inquiry be sent to determine whether the Foundation's present interests and funds permit consideration of the request. The letter should include: The purpose of the project for which funds are being requested, problems and issues the proposed project will address, information about the organization conducting the project, estimated overall budget for the project, period of time for which funds are requested, and qualifications of those who will be engaged in the project. Requests are considered throughout the year; there are no deadlines.

Friends of the Earth Fellowships

Friends of the Earth, 1025 Vermont Avenue, NW, Suite 300, Washington, DC 20005, (202) 783-7400. <http://www.foe.org/about/jobs/>

FOE-US is part of a global environmental advocacy organization with affiliates in 57 countries, with headquarters in Washington, D.C. and a field office in Seattle. Fellows make a six-month commitment, are required to work five days a week, and receive a stipend of $800-$1,000 per month. Applicants must have relevant academic/professional experience in environmental policy, economics, political science, journalism, or the natural sciences, be computer literate, (WordPerfect) and possess excellent writing and speaking skills. Applicants must be college graduates or graduate students.

Winter/spring fellowships start on January 15; summer/fall fellowships start on July 15. There is no formal application form and positions are available year-round, so applicants are encouraged to apply at any time. To apply, send a resume, cover letter, and a short writing sample to Fellowship Coordinator. There are also various internship and volunteer opportunities available. Jobs, internships, and fellowships vary; see the website for more information.

Fulbright U.S. Student Program

<http://www.iie.org/fulbright/us/> For more information, please contact your campus representative at the Career Center.

The U.S. Student Program is designed to give recent B.S. /B.A. graduates, masters and doctoral candidates, and young professionals and artists opportunities for personal development and international experience. Most grantees plan their own programs. Projects may include university coursework, independent library or field research, classes in a music conservatory or art school, special projects in the social or life sciences, or a combination. The competition for the 2006-2007 academic years abroad will open May 1, 2005 and the deadline for applications is October 21, 2005. Students enrolled at time of application must apply through Office of Merit Awards and meet an earlier deadline. Contact career center for more info.

The Graduate Leadership Council at American University

Graduate Leadership Council, MGC 262; American University; 4400 Massachusetts Ave, NW; Washington, DC 20016; (202) 885-2472, fax: (202) 885-1125, email: glcvc@american.edu. www.american.edu/glc/site/Content.cfm?include=Grants.htm.

The Graduate Leadership Council awards non-competitive research grants each semester to assist graduate students in faculty approved research activities (conferences, publications, dissertations, theses, SRPs, etc.). Grants are handled by the Office of the Vice Chair, Edward W. Sawyer. Phone: (202) 885-2602. Email: glcvc@american.edu. The deadlines for applications are October 17 and April 2 during the school year.

The Greenlining Institute Academy Fellowships

Academy Director, Greenlining Institute, 785 Market Street, 3rd Floor, San Francisco, California 94103. <http://www.greenlining.org/academy/>

The Greenlining Institute, a Multi-Ethnic Public Policy Institute located in San Francisco, is seeking candidates for its Multi-Ethnic Academy Fellowships and Internships in public policy and economic development. The Academy is a public policy and leadership training program for recent college graduates and graduate students who are pursuing careers in the field of public policy, urban planning, minority advocacy, and economic development. The program runs September 1, 2005 to August 31, 2006. Deadline: April 15, 2005. A Summer Associates Program is also available. Please check website for further information.

The Harry Frank Guggenheim Foundation

The Harry Frank Guggenheim Foundation, 527 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022, (212) 644-4907; fax (212) 644-5110. www.hfg.org.

The foundation awards research grants to individuals for individual projects and does not award grants to institutions for institutional programs. Priority is given to proposals that address urgent problems of violence, aggression, and dominance in the developing world. For administrative convenience, a grantee may choose for the foundation to pay grant funds to an institution on behalf of the grantee, rather than to the grantee directly. If the grantee so directs, the grant will be administered and accounted for by the institution on behalf of the grantee in accordance with the budget prepared by the grantee and included with the application (subject to revisions approved by the foundation). Applications must clearly specify whether the funds requested will be administered through an institution or will be paid to the grantee directly. Administration of grant funds through an institution does not change the grant's tax status as a grant made to the individual researcher. The foundation ordinarily makes awards in the range of $15,000 to $30,000 a year for periods of one or two years. Applications for larger amounts and longer durations must be very strongly justified. Deadline: August 1 for decisions in December, and February 1 for decisions in June. Deadline for dissertation projects: February 1 of every year for starting in September (Must hold Ph.D. or candidacy)

Harvard University

Associate Director, Harvard University, 1737 Cambridge Street, Room 502, Cambridge, MA 02138-3099, (617) 495-1890; fax: (617) 495-4921; Email:

us_japan@cfia.harvard.edu. <http://www.wcfia.harvard.edu/progdetail.asp?ID=12>

Harvard University's Program on U.S.-Japan Relations is currently offering a small number of fellowships for the study of issues in U.S.-Japan relations, Japan's relations with other countries, and domestic issues that bear on Japan's international behavior.

Deadline not specified—please contact for further information. Contact Information Shinju Fujihira, Associate Director, Program on U.S.-Japan Relations Email:

sfujihira@wcfia.harvard.edu Tel: 617-495-1890 Fax: 617-495-4921

The Herbert Scoville Jr. Peace Fellowship

Paul Revsine, Program Director, Herbert Scoville Jr. Peace Fellowship, 110 Maryland Avenue, NE, Suite 409, Washington, DC 20002, (202) 543-4100. www.scoville.org or <http://www.clw.org/scoville/>

The Herbert Scoville Jr. Peace Fellowship was established in 1987 to provide college graduates with the opportunity to gain a Washington perspective on key issues of peace and security. Twice yearly, the Fellowship's Board of Directors selects a small group of outstanding individuals to spend six months in Washington. Supported by a monthly stipend, the Fellows serve as full-time project assistants at the participating organization of their choice. This six to nine month ($1,600/month) fellowship will allow outstanding individuals to work with nonprofit, public-interest organizations addressing peace and security issues. Prior experience with public-interest activism or advocacy is desired. In the Program's first fourteen years, seventy-seven Fellowships have been awarded. The application deadline for the Spring 2006 Scoville Fellowship is Monday, October 17. Applications may be submitted via email.

Human Rights Education Associates

HREA USA Office, PO Box 382396, Cambridge, MA 02238, (617) 625-0278; fax: (617) 249-0278; Email: info@hrea.org. www.hrea.org

The Human Rights Education Associates (HREA) offers distance education courses for human rights workers. There are currently three pilot courses with more to follow; the courses are pilot themselves and are not yet accredited. Please note that the application deadline for courses offered in the second half of 2005 was Friday, 1 July 2005. The application process for courses offered in the first semester of 2006 has started.

Classes offered in the first semester of 2006:

- Human Rights Advocacy (20 February-4 June 2006)
[application deadline: 15 December 2005]
- The United Nations Human Rights System (13 February-6 May 2006)
[application deadline: 15 December 2005]
- Introduction to Human Rights Education \(in German\) (6 March-29 May 2006)
[application deadline: 15 December 2005; application process starts in September]
- Rights-Based Programming (22 March-13 June 2006)
[application deadline: 15 December 2005]
- Introduction to the Inter-American System of Human Rights Protection and Promotion (29 March-20 June 2006)
application deadline: 15 December 2005; application process starts in September; this course is offered in collaboration with the [Instituto Interamericano de Derechos Humano]

Human Rights Watch

Human Rights Watch, Attn: Fellowship Committee, 350 Fifth Avenue, 34th floor, New York, NY 10118-3299, (212) 290-4700, ext. 13; E-mail: hrwdc@hrw.org.

<http://www.hrw.org/about/info/fellows-flyer.html>

Human Rights Watch, (HRW) is an international organization that monitors human rights around the world and has proven successful in affecting the policies of governments toward human rights abusers. Applicants must have exceptional analytic skills, an ability to write and speak clearly, and a commitment to work in the human rights field in the future on a paid or volunteer basis. Proficiency in one language in addition to English is strongly recommended. Familiarity with countries or regions where serious human rights violations occur is also valued. Fellows must be law, journalism, international relations, or area studies graduates with degrees received after January 2003 and before August 2006, or must provide evidence of significant, comparable, relevant work experience. Fellowships begin in September 2006 Available Fellowships through Human Rights Watch are: Aryeh Neier Fellowship, Finberg Fellowship, Schell Fellowship, Bloomberg Fellowship, Furman Fellowship, Sandler Fellowship. Complete applications (including transcripts and recommendations) for 2006-2007 fellowships must be received by October 7, 2005.

Indiana University

Jane Addams – Andrew Carnegie Fellowship Program, Cavanaugh Hall 429, 425 University Boulevard, Indianapolis, IN 46202, (317) 278-2704; fax: (317) 278-2701.

<http://www.philanthropy.iupui.edu>

Jane Addams-Andrew Carnegie Fellowships in Philanthropy is a ten-month program sponsored by the Indiana University Center on Philanthropy. Applicants should be recent college graduates who are interested in working in the nonprofit sector. Recipients receive a $15,000 stipend, classes on philanthropy, and career guidance. Program appears to have been discontinued. Continue to check website for updates.

Institute for International Education

1400 K St. NW, Suite 650, Washington, DC 20005, (202) 326-7704, fax: (202) 326-7698, E-mail: gblackwell@iie.org.

http://www.iie.org/Template.cfm?Section=Scholarships_Awards_and_Grants&Template=/Activity/ActivityDisplay.cfm&activityid=58

The Professional Development Fellowship Program is a fellowship program for young American researchers in professional, policy and public administration-related fields who want to develop a specialized knowledge of southeastern Europe and the former Soviet Union, East and Central Europe. Candidates may apply for grants to Albania, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Bosnia-Herzegovina FYR, Bulgaria, Croatia, Estonia, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Latvia, Lithuania, Macedonia, Moldova, Romania, Russia, Slovak Republic, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, Ukraine Uzbekistan, or Yugoslavia. Grants are available for periods of three to seven months. The program is intended to support young specialists in the fields of business and economics, education reform, environmental and conservation policy, international relations, journalism, law, public administration and public health. Fellows will go to a country in the region to deepen their understanding of current reforms and national development, and become familiar with scholarly resources which they will use in future projects. Applicants will be expected to propose feasible research, study or internship plans for the period of the fellowship and indicate a desired institutional affiliation in the host country.

Institute for International Public Policy

2750 Prosperity Avenue, Suite 600, Fairfax, VA 22031, (800) 530-6232 (toll free), (703) 205-7624; fax: (703) 205-7645. www.uncfsp.org/iipp/fellowship/index.htm.

The IIPP Fellowship program provides students with specially designed education and training experiences critical to entry and advancement in international affairs careers. Applicants must meet the following requirements: 1) be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident, 2) minimum 3.2 grade point average, 3) strong interest in international affairs, and 4) be an underrepresented minority. Current deadline not specified—please check website for updates. Note: For undergraduate sophomores enrolled full-time at a 4-year institution.

Institute for Women's Policy Research

Fellowship Coordinator, Institute for Women's Policy Research, 1707 L Street NW, Suite 750, Washington, DC 20036; Email: gunn@iwpr.org. No phone calls please.

The fellowships at the Institute for Women's Policy Research were established to assist in the professional development of students and graduates.

- IWPR/GW Fellowship in Women's Public Policy

The Women's Studies Program office, 2201 G Street NW, Funger Hall, Suite 506-I, Washington, DC 20052. http://www.iwpr.org/employment_gwfellow.html No phone calls.

The recipient of this fellowship will participate in research at the Institute for Women's Policy Research during the fellowship year, while enrolled as a full-time graduate student at The George Washington University. This fellowship provides a stipend of $10,000 and 18 hours of tuition credit at The George Washington University. Students enrolled in or applying to any of the graduate programs at The George Washington University are eligible to apply. Preference will be given to advanced graduate students, particularly to Ph.D. students in the Gender and Social Policy concentration, whose theses topics relate to IWPR research interests. Current or previous fellows may reapply once. No fellowship opportunities open at this time. Please check back for future opportunities.

- The Mariam K. Chamberlain Fellowship Program

Fellowship Coordinator, Institute for Women's Policy Research, 1707 L Street, NW, Suite 750, Washington, DC 20036.

http://www.iwpr.org/employment_fellow.html No phone calls.

The Institute for Women's Policy Research (IWPR) is a non-profit, scientific research organization that works primarily on issues related to equal opportunity and economic and social justice for women. IWPR works with policymakers, scholars, and advocacy groups around the country to conduct research, disseminate its findings, and build a network of individuals and organizations concerned with policy issues for women. No internship or fellowship opportunities in this area are open at this time. Check back for future opportunities

International Development Research Center

PO Box 8500, Ottawa ON, K1G 3H9, Canada, 1-613-236-6163.

<http://www.idrc.ca/awards/evelop.htm>.

IDRC funds and administers a number of award programs in the field of international development: Ecosystem Approaches to Human Health Training Awards, International Graduate Research Awards in Urban Agriculture, and the Pearson Award. Research Fellowships of six months to two years duration are granted for research in areas that accord with IDRC's Corporate Program Framework. These fellowships are not offered on a regular basis but are awarded at the discretion of the Centre. Research Fellowships can be held at a relevant developing country institution, or at any of IDRC's offices. Candidates must either be Canadian citizens/permanent residents or citizens of a developing country and must have completed their formal training. Interested individuals should submit a letter of intent to an IDRC Program Officer working in their area of interest.

- The Ecosystem Approaches to Human Health Awards

EcoHealth Awards, Centre Training and Awards Program, International Development Research Centre, Street Address: 250 Albert St., Ottawa, Ontario K1P 6M1, Mailing Address: PO Box 8500, Ottawa, Ontario K1G 3H9; Fax: (613) 563-0815, Telephone: (613) 236-6163 ext. 2098

E-mail: cta@idrc.ca http://www.idrc.ca/en/ev-54473-201-1-DO_TOPIC.html

The program is intended to provide financial assistance to graduate students undertaking research projects which look at the relationships between the environment and human health.

- AGROPOLIS - International Graduate Research Awards Programme in Urban Agriculture, International Development Research Centre (IDRC), PO Box 8500, Ottawa, Ontario, K1G 3H9 Canada
 Tel: (613) 236-6163 Ext. 2040; Fax: (613) 567-7749, AGROPOLIS@idrc.ca
Please note that the AGROPOLIS Program is currently being evaluated. As a result there will not be awards offered in 2006, thus we are not accepting applications at this time.

The International Fellows Program (IFP)

Association of African Universities, P.O. AN 5744, Accra, Ghana. ifp@aau.org. www.aau.org/ifp.

The International Fellowships Program (IFP) provides opportunities for advanced study to exceptional individuals who will use this education to become leaders in their respective fields, furthering development in their own countries and greater economic and social justice worldwide. To ensure that Fellows are drawn from diverse backgrounds, IFP will actively recruit candidates from social groups and communities that lack systematic access to higher education. The International Fellowships Program provides support for up to three years of formal graduate-level study. Citizens from the following countries are eligible: Nigeria, Senegal and Ghana. U.S. nationals are not eligible, although Fellows may study in the United States. For more information or an application, please email or write to the office in your region.

Deadline not specified—please contact for further information. Applications are available annually in January and February.

International Foundation for Education and Self-Help (IFESH)

5040 E. Shea Boulevard, Suite 260, Scottsdale, Arizona USA 85254-4687, (480) 443-1800 or toll free at (800) 835-353; fax: (480) 443-1824; Email: ifesh@ifesh.org.

<http://www.ifesh.org/>. <http://www.ifesh.org/fellows.html>

The International Fellows Program (IFP), a public-private sector initiative, was created in 1987 by the late Reverend Leon H. Sullivan to allow recent college graduates and graduate students an opportunity to work overseas for 9 months as International Fellows, primarily in African countries but also in selected other developing countries. Fellows are assigned to various development organizations such as Africare, CARE, Save the Children, TechnoServe, Opportunities Industrialization Centers International, Counterpart International, and UNICEF to work on various types of community-based development activities. The INTERNATIONAL FELLOWS PROGRAM provides nine-month overseas internships for graduate students or recent college and university graduates. Application Deadline: February 28.

International Research & Exchanges Board (IREX)

International Research & Exchanges Board; 2121 K Street, NW, Suite 700; Washington, DC 20037; (202) 628-8188, fax: (202) 618-8189, email: irex@irex.org.

www.irex.org/programs/iaro.index.asp.

IREX accepts applications for the Master's Individual Advanced Research Opportunities Program (IARO), which provides fellowships to master's students from the U.S. for individual long-term policy-relevant research in Europe and Eurasia. Grants are for one to three months for master's-level students to conduct research on policy-relevant topics. Scholars in cross-disciplinary and cross-country/regional studies are strongly encouraged to apply. The application deadline is November 15, 2005.

Johns Hopkins University

Carol M. Wessner, International Fellows in Philanthropy Program, Wyman Building, 5th Floor, 3400 North Charles Street, Baltimore, MD 21218, (410) 516-5389; fax: (410) 516-8233; Email: cwessner@jhu.edu. <http://www.jhu.edu/~philfellow/>.

The International Fellows in Philanthropy Program promotes advanced study, research, and training at the Johns Hopkins Institute for Policy Studies, Center for Civil Society Studies, for a semester (four months) or a full academic year (nine months), for up to eight persons each year. Program participants are involved in studying or managing private, nonprofit, or philanthropic organizations outside the United States, or serve as government or corporate liaisons to the nonprofit sector. The deadline for this fellowship is February 25, 2005.

John Kenneth Galbraith Public Policy Fellowship

ADA Education Fund, Attention Galbraith Fellowship Program, 1625 K Street NW, Suite 210, Washington, DC 20006, Amy Isaacs (202) 785-5980; Email: adaction@ix.netcom.com. <http://www.adaction.org/galbraith.html>.

This fellowship is administered by Americans for Democratic Action, and is open to outstanding college graduates or graduate students. Applicants should have majored in economics, industrial relations, public policy, or a related discipline with a demonstrated interest in national economic policy. The fellowship is intended to provide the students with an initial opportunity to gain a Washington perspective and experience as part of their goal of pursuing graduate study and a career in public policy. Research projects will vary according to the interests of the individual, but generally can be expected to include federal budget and tax policy, full employment, the minimum wage, income inequality, labor rights and standards, and international trade. Fellows will receive a monthly stipend of $1,000 for periods ranging from three months to one year. Fellows will be selected from a national pool and must demonstrate strong research and writing skills, community service and leadership, a commitment to liberal ideals, academic accomplishment, and plans for future study or career in public policy. Tentative starting dates for the fellowships are: March, July, or October. However, starting times are flexible and depend on the project of each individual Fellow. Complete applications must be received no later than one month before the start of each fellowship.

John Merck Fund

Ruth G. Hennig, 11 Beacon Street, Suite 1230, Boston, MA 02108; Email: info@jmfund.org <http://www.jmfund.org/grant.html>

The John Merck Fund provides support for projects in six areas: developmental disabilities, environment, disarmament, reproductive health, international human rights, and job opportunities. Grants are normally made for one year. However, the occasional multiyear grants are for a maximum of three years. The sponsor prefers matching grants, particularly to embryonic endeavors, in order to encourage the organization to broaden its support. Recent grants have ranged from $2,000 to $500,000. There is no specific deadline for this program, but the sponsor first needs to send a letter of inquiry. If successful, the sponsor will invite the applicant to submit a formal proposal.

The John Smith Fellowship Programme

www.britishcouncil.org/governance-js-home.htm.

www.johnsmithmemorialtrust.org.

The Trust established the John Smith Fellowship Programme in 1996. It is an intensive, 6 week programme on good governance, democracy and social justice. The Programme is currently available to young people from Russia, Ukraine, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Moldova, Georgia and Kyrgyzstan. The Trust hopes to add to this list of countries. Preference is given to applicants working in: the political process; legal services, especially in the field of human rights; journalism/broadcasting; government service (including local government); and NGOs with explicit involvement in furthering democracy, equal rights, and social justice, or promoting democratic access, participation, and accountability in government. The Deadline for applications is Thursday 1 December 2005.

Joyce Mertz-Gilmore Foundation

Robert Crane, President, Joyce Mertz-Gilmore Foundation, 218 E. 18th St., New York, NY 10003-3694, (212)475-1137; fax: (212)777-5226; Email: info@mertzgilmore.org.

<http://www.mertzgilmore.org>.

The Joyce Mertz-Gilmore Foundation makes general support and project grants to protect human rights and promote world peace and security. The foundation also makes grants to environment/energy projects. It funds a joint initiative with other foundations to support the Energy Foundation in San Francisco. Nonprofit organizations, with emphasis on public policy and advocacy groups, are eligible. Mertz-Gilmore supports projects that protect human rights and refugee rights internationally with emphasis on efforts to investigate human rights abuses, advocate application of international human rights law, encourage international information sharing, and build human rights groups' capacities in developing countries. Its work to protect human rights in the U.S. focuses on projects that support lesbian, gay male, immigrant, and refugee rights. Grants are for organizations and projects, not individuals. Please submit an inquiry letter of no more than three pages by regular mail. Check website for further information.

J.W. Saxe Memorial Prize

J.W. Saxe Memorial Fund, 1524 31st Street NW, Washington, DC 20007

<http://www.jwsaxefund.org>

J.W. Saxe Memorial Prize provides $1500 grants to students to gain practical experience in public service by taking no pay or a low paying job or internship during a summer or other term. Preference will be given those applicants who have already found such a position but who require extra funds. Applicants should send resume and a statement of short and long-term goals to the address listed above. Please include statements from 3 references and a letter of support from a faculty member. Both undergraduate and graduate students may apply for this award. This project seems to have ended. Please check website for updates.

King Baudouin Foundation

The King Baudouin Foundation, 21 Rue Brederodestraat, B-1000 Brussels – Belgium, Tel: 32-2-549.02.73; fax: 32-2-500.54.31; Email: info@kbprize.org. www.kbprize.org.

The King Baudouin Foundation grants awards biennially to individuals of organizations for sustainable achievements in improving the lives of people in the developing world. The program welcomes nominations from all field specialties as long as their proposal provides opportunities for people to take eventual control of their own development. The prize will be awarded at the Royal Palace in Brussels. Launch of the next call for candidacies: 15 October 2005. Closing of the next call for candidacies: 1 February 2006

Korean Honor Scholarship

See website for further information:

http://www.koreaembassy.org/education/eng_scholarship1.cfm

The Korean Honor Scholarship Committee extends an invitation to Korean and Korean-American undergraduate and graduate college students to compete for the year 2003 Korean Honor Scholarship. The Scholarship fund was established in 1981 by a gift of $1.5 million from the government of the Republic of Korea to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the opening of diplomatic ties between Korea and the U.S.A. The scholarship is awarded to encourage outstanding students to achieve their highest academic performance and develop leadership qualities for their future professional careers. The Korean Honor Scholarship Committee has awarded 1,885 scholarships to outstanding Korean and Korean-American students over the past 21 years. To be eligible for consideration, students must be attending college or university in the U.S.A. or Canada, and must have an overall grade average of 3.5 or higher. In addition to academic achievement, an essay, a letter of recommendation, awards, honors, performances, and extracurricular activities are criteria reviewed for selection. Up to 50 scholarships have been awarded in the year 2003 covering all areas of study. Last available application period: March 14, 2005 - June 10, 2005. Check website for updates.

Leader to Leader Institute (*formerly the Drucker Foundation)

The Drucker Foundation, Hesselbein Fellows Program, 320 Park Avenue, Third Floor, New York, NY 10022-6839, (212) 224-1189. <http://www.pfdf.org/fellows/index.html>.

The Drucker Foundation supports the Frances Hesselbein Community Innovation Fellows Program. This is a one-year program. Applicants should have at least ten years experience working in the nonprofit sector. The Leader to Leader Institute will not seek candidates for the Frances Hesselbein Innovation Fellows Program in 2005. Check website for updates.

Margaret McNamara Memorial Fund

The Margaret McNamara Memorial Fund, 1818 H Street, NW, Room H2-204, Washington, DC 20433, (202) 473-8751; fax (202) 522-3142; Email: MMMF@worldbank.org <http://www.wbfn.org>

The Margaret McNamara Memorial Fund (MMMMF) was established in 1981 to honor the late Margaret McNamara and her commitment to the well-being of women and children in developing countries. The purpose of the grant is to support the education of women from developing countries who are committed to improving the lives of women and children in their home countries. Previous grant recipients were studying fields such as agriculture, architecture and urban planning, civil engineering, education, forestry, journalism, nursing, nutrition, pediatrics, public administration, public health, social sciences, and social work. Six grants available of $11,000. The completed application must be sent by midnight, February 1, 2006

Marshall Scholarship

The British Council, 10 Spring Gardens, London SW1A 2BN

Email: general.enquiries@britishcouncil.org URL: <http://www.marshallscholarship.org/>

The Marshall Scholarship is an award given by the British government for two years of study in the United Kingdom awarded to forty or so intellectually distinguished young Americans who will one day become leaders, opinion formers and decision makers in their own country. Applicant must be within two years of receiving their bachelor's degree. University endorsement required. All items including the four letters of recommendation must be submitted online by the authorized contact and received at the regional centre no later than October 5, 2005.

Martin Ennals Award

*c/o HURIDOCs 48, chemin du Grand-Montfleury CH-1290, Versoix, Switzerland, telephone: 41.22.7755252; fax: 41.22.75655260; Email: info@huridocs.org.
www.martinennalsaward.org.*

The Martin Ennals Award for Human Rights Defenders is awarded annually to individuals who have shown significant devotion to the ongoing endeavor for the defense and promotion of human rights. The applicant must be currently involved in human rights work. Special attention in the selection process is given to those applicants that are working in hostile conditions where fundamental human rights are an issue. You must be nominated to receive this award. The deadline for nominations is October 1, annually.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

*Center for International Studies, Building E38-278, 292 Main Street, Cambridge, MA 02138, (617) 258-7614; fax: (617) 452-3962; Email: phrj@mit.edu.
http://web.mit.edu/phrj/research_fellows.html.*

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Program on Human Rights and Justice has introduced Human Rights and Justice Fellowships. The fellowships are aimed at outstanding professionals, academics, and activists working at the intersection of human rights and other topics, who wish to conduct in-depth research into specific topics of social and natural sciences and engineering as they relate to human rights and justice issues. Proposals for human rights research relating to the global economy and science and technology are especially welcome. The MIT Program on Human Rights and Justice has temporarily suspended review of new fellowship applications.

Microfinance Management Institute (MFMI)

Ms. Leslie Barcus; Microfinance Management Institute; c/o The Open Society Institute; 1120 19th Street, NW, 8th floor; Washington, DC 20036; email: LBarcus@themfmi.org. www.cgap.org. www.themfmi.org.

Up to fifteen Fellows from developing and emerging-market economies will be selected to link with an existing international network of universities currently supported by the MFMI. These universities participate in the MFMI “Microfinance in MBA Programs” Project (“MBA Project”) focused on developing high-level academic education in microfinance management. The Fellowship Program will enhance the capacity of both individuals and academic institutions to develop programs in this rapidly emerging and important field. The mission of the MFMI and the MBA Project is to advance capacity in microfinance management worldwide. The MFMI is a joint venture of the Consultative Group to Assist the Poor (CGAP), a secretariat of the World Bank, and the Open Society Institute (OSI), New York. Through the MBA Project, leading business schools in Asia, Africa, and Latin America are receiving support to develop postgraduate programs in microfinance management. The Fellowship Program aims to: foster the development of academic programs in microfinance management; provide opportunities for faculty with conceptual management expertise and an interest in microfinance management to create and test high-quality teaching resources; facilitate opportunities for faculty to build international networks, benefit from learning exchanges, and deepen international insights into microfinance management. Applications are accepted on a continuous basis, or until further notice. Queries or requests for further information should be addressed to slissfelt@themfmi.org.

Morris K. Udall Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation

*Kristin Kelling, 110 South Church Avenue, Suite 3350, Tuscon, AZ 85701-1650, (520) 670-5609; fax: (520) 670-5530; Email: kelling@udall.gov.
http://www.udall.gov/p_fell_guide.htm*

The Udall Foundation supports doctoral candidates whose dissertation is in the area of environmental policy and conflict resolution. Fellowships carry a maximum stipend of $24,000 and are intended to cover both academic and living expenses. Applicants must be U.S. citizens, permanent residents or U.S. nationals. The deadline for this program is February 3, 2005, look for new application on the website in September of 2006.

My Travel Bug Inc.

www.mytravelbug.org

My Travel Bug Inc. is dedicated to fostering global awareness and cultural exchange by sharing travelogues, pictures and audio submitted by our readers. For those financially unable to travel abroad, money is available through a fellowship program. Fellows are awarded stipends to travel overseas in exchange for publishing their travelogues and pictures on our website. These fellowships are offered twice a year for trips lasting one, two, or three months. Depending on fundraising efforts they hope to eventually offer at least $150,000 in fellowships a year. Check website for new deadlines.

The National Council for Research on Women

11 Hanover Square, New York, NY 10005, (212) 785-7335; fax: (212) 785-7350; Email: ncrw@ncrw.org. www.ncrw.org

The National Council for Research on Women is currently offering a fellowship on gender research in New York. Fellows will focus on the gendered dimensions of human security and their intersections with race, class, religion, sexuality, generation and nation. The programs last for two years and scholars or activists from all parts of the world are encouraged to apply. The application deadline was January 2005 check website again in 2007, as competitions only occur every other year.

The National Endowment for Democracy

1101 Fifteenth Street, NW, Suite 700, Washington DC, 20005, (202) 293-9072; fax: (202) 223-6042; Email: Kristin Helz at Kristin@ned.org. <http://www.ned.org/>

The National Endowment for Democracy is a private, nongovernmental organization that is devoted to spreading democracy and freedom throughout the world. However, the organization stresses that democracy in other nations does not have to follow in the footsteps of democracy as it is understood in the U.S. This organization is currently seeking applicants for its Reagan-Fascell Democracy Fellows Program. This program focuses on practitioners and scholars from new and aspiring democracies as well as U.S. citizens and applicants from other established democracies. Tuesday, November 1, 2005 is the application deadline for fellowships beginning October 1, 2006 (fellowship duration: 3–10 months) or March 1, 2007 (fellowship duration: 3–5 months).

Network of East-West Women

Laurie MacDonald Brumberg, Membership & Fellowship Program Director, Network of East-West Women, 1761 S Street NW, Suite LL-12, Washington, DC 20009, (202) 299-9001; fax: (202) 299-9003; Email: lbrumberg@neww.org. www.neww.org

The Network of East-West Women (NEWW) has two fellowship programs, the Legal Fellowship Program and the Economic and Social Policy Fellowship Program. These programs provide intensive training and regional networking opportunities to young women from Central and Eastern Europe, the New Independent States, and the Russian Federation working to achieve economic and social justice for women. Check website for updates.

Open Society Institute Community Fellowship

Open Society Institute, 400 West 59th Street, New York, NY 10019, (212) 548-0360. <http://www.soros.org/initiatives/cf>

The Open Society Institute Community Fellowship is an eighteen-month fellowship sponsored by the Open Society Institute. Applicants develop a project in New York or Baltimore serving the inner-city communities located there; the project can be implemented individually or through a non-profit organization. Fellows receive $48,750 to cover their costs annually. Note: The 2005 application deadline has passed. Please check back in early 2006 for information on the next call for applications.

Organization of American States

<http://www.educoas.org/portal/en/becas/acerca.aspx?culture=en&navid=44>

17th Street and Constitution Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20006. www.oas.org

The Regular Training Program (PRA) is one of the instruments of development cooperation of the Inter-American Agency for Cooperation and Development (IACD). The fundamental objective of the Regular Training Program is to promote the economic, social, scientific, and cultural development of the member States in order to achieve a stronger bond and better understanding among the peoples of the Americas through the advanced training of its citizens in the priority areas requested by the countries. The fellowships are awarded for advanced study at the graduate level and graduate research. Citizens or permanent residents of OAS member States who hold a university degree and who meet the requirements to pursue advanced studies or research in the field chosen are eligible to request a fellowship under this program. You must also apply separately to the academic program/university at which you wish to study. Please contact for further information.

The Paul and Daisy Soros Fellowship for New Americans

400 West 59th Street, New York, NY 10019, (212) 547-6926; fax: (212) 548-4623; Email:

pdsoros_fellows@sorosny.org. <http://www.pdsoros.org>

The purpose of the Paul & Daisy Soros Fellowships for New Americans is to provide opportunities for continuing generations of able and accomplished New Americans to achieve leadership in their chosen fields and to partake of the American dream. Fellows must have shown potential in the fields for which they seek further education; the capacity for creativity, persistence and work; and the commitment to the values of the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights, which protect the American dream. The fellowships are grants for up to two years of study in the United States. Each year, the fellow will receive $20,000 and a tuition grant of half the total tuition cost for the graduate program they are attending. A New American is an individual who (1) is a resident alien; i.e. holds a Green Card or (2) has been naturalized as a U.S. citizen or (3) is the child of two parents who are both naturalized citizens. Applicants are strongly encouraged to contact Office of Merit Awards by August 1st for help with developing an application. Application Deadline: November 1, 2005. Check website for updates.

USAID—Population Reference Bureau

1875 Connecticut Avenue, NW, Suite 520, Washington, DC 20009-5728, (202) 483-1100;

fax: (202) 328-3937; Email: mblabey@prb.org.

http://www.usaid.gov/about/employment/fellows/fp_popref.html

The Population Reference Bureau is accepting application for the 2002-2003 International Programs Fellows. The fellowships are full-time positions, lasting one year (starting in June or July 2002). Fellows will work at either PRB or USAID. Candidates for the position should be a U.S. citizen or have appropriate visa status to work in the U.S. Candidates must have education or work experience related to population, communication, or public health. The fellowship pays $28,000 annually plus benefits. Fellow positions vary each year and are contingent on availability of funding.

Application deadline not available—please check website for updates.

Presidential Management Intern Program (PMI)

Philadelphia Service Center, William J. Green, Jr. Federal Building, 600 Arch St., Room 3400, Philadelphia, PA 19106-1596, (215) 861-3066; fax: (215) 861-3030; Email: pmi@opm.gov. <http://www.pmi.opm.gov>

The PMI is designed to attract to the Federal Service, outstanding graduate students in a wide variety of academic disciplines who have an interest in, and commitment to, a career in analysis and management of public policies and programs. It is a two-year internship program which enables graduate degree students to be appointed to Federal positions as PMIs and to have the opportunity to be converted to a permanent Federal civil service position following the successful internship. University nomination required. Contact the Office of Merit Awards for more info. The application deadline for this program is October 15th.

Purdue University

Graduate School Admissions, Purdue University, 170 Young Graduate House, West Lafayette, IN 47906-6208. <http://icdweb.cc.purdue.edu/~broussar/>.

Purdue University occasionally offers fellowships in the areas of natural resources and environmental policy as well as the human dimensions of natural resources. Deadlines: Fall Semester: July 15 (May 15-International Students) Spring Semester: Dec. 1 (Oct. 15-International Students) Summer Semester: May 1 (March 15-International Students)

- The Environmental Policy Program will involve examining the role of the courts and interest groups in public forestland management in the United States. This project will require employment of qualitative and quantitative research methods, and may involve travel both in-state and across the region. Successful applicants should have a strong grounding in natural resource or environmental policy.
- The Human Dimensions Program will involve conducting research related to natural resources and private forestland from a social science perspective. Research will involve examining the social and political aspects of attitudes, knowledge, decision-making, and behavior related to natural resource management, with a specific focus on private lands. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

Resources for the Future

1616 P Street NW, Washington, DC 20036-1400, Kay Murphy (202) 328-5000; fax: (202) 939-3460. www.rff.org

Resources for the Future (RFF), is a nonprofit, nonadvocacy research institution that addresses natural resources and environmental issues with a commitment to both scholarly excellence and policy relevance. This organization has offered research fellowship positions in a number of different fields. However, all fields require applicants with strong backgrounds in microeconomics. Check website for new opportunities.

The Rotary Foundation

One Rotary Center, 1560 Sherman Avenue, Evanston, IL, 60201, (847) 866-3000, fax: (847) 328-8554, E-mail: scholarshipinquiries@rotaryintl.org. http://www.rotary.org/foundation/educational/amb_scho/index.html

Rotary is an organization of business and professional leaders united worldwide who provide humanitarian service, encourage high ethical standards in all vocations, and help build goodwill and peace in the world. The purpose of the Rotary Foundation's Ambassadorial Scholarships program is to further international understanding and friendly relations among people of different countries. There are 3 different types of scholarships: Academic-Year Ambassadorial Scholarships, Multi-Year Ambassadorial Scholarships, and Cultural Ambassadorial Scholarships (3 - 6 months). In addition to these three, the foundation also offers a Rotary World Peace Scholar Fellowship. This position is designed to focus on conflict resolution and peace studies while pursuing a master's degree. The application deadlines vary by club and district, so contact local club for a specific date.

Smith Richardson Foundation

60 Jesup Road, Westport, CT 06880, (203) 222-6222, fax: (203) 222-6282, Email: fboulds@srf.org. http://www.srf.org/jf_domestic_description.htm

The Smith Richardson Foundation supports programs related to international security, foreign, domestic and public policies. There is no deadline for this grant program; requests for more than $60,000 or for multi-year support are made quarterly and grants for less than $60,000 are reviewed on an ongoing basis. These grants support post-doctoral faculty members to conduct research and writing on domestic public policy issues. Application deadline was July 1, 2005. Check website for updates.

Smithsonian Institution Graduate Student Fellowship Program

Office of Fellowships, Smithsonian Institution, 750 9th Street NW, Suite 9300, Washington, DC 20560-0902, (202) 275-0655, Email: siofg@ofg.si.edu. <http://www.si.edu/ofg/fell.htm>

These $3,700 fellowships allow students to conduct research for ten-week periods in association with Smithsonian research staff members. Applicants must be formally enrolled in a graduate program of study, must have completed at least one semester, and must not yet have been advanced to candidacy in a doctoral program.

Application deadline is January 15.

Social Science Research Council

810 7th Avenue, New York, NY 10019, (212) 377-2700, fax: (212) 377-2727, Email: info@ssrc.org. <http://www.ssrc.org/>

The SSRC sponsors fellowship and grant programs on a wide range of topics, and across many different career stages. Most support goes to pre-dissertation, dissertation, and post-doctoral fellowships, offered through annual competitions. Some programs support summer institutes and advanced research grants. Although most programs target the social sciences, many are also open to applicants from the humanities, the natural sciences, and relevant professional and practitioner communities. The details and descriptions of each of these fellowships can be found on the website or in the file located in the International Development Office. Deadlines vary with specific fellowship—please check website in 2005 for updated information.

The Society for International Development—Washington, D.C. Chapter

1875 Connecticut Ave, NW, Suite 720; Washington, DC 20009; (202) 884-8590, fax: (202) 884-8499; email: sid@aed.org. www.sidw.org.

The purpose of the Truman Award of Leadership and Innovation by Young Professionals in International Development (Truman Award) is to recognize the achievements of a young professional working in the broad field of International Development. The award is awarded annually by The Society for International Development – Washington Chapter. The award is designed to honor leadership, creativity, and dedication in the field of international development. The selected winner will embrace these characteristics, as well as demonstrate great promise for advancement as an international development professional. Finally, the selected winner will recognize international development as a means of service to those who are most in need, and will work towards sustainable, people-centered development initiatives. Deadline: Fall 2005 (TBD).

Spencer Foundation

875 North Michigan Avenue, Suite 3930, Chicago, IL, 60611-1803, (312) 337-7000, fax: (312)337-0282, www.spencer.org/fellows/index_main.htm.

The Spencer Foundation is an educational publishing organization that works to improve education around the world. The foundation interprets the word education very broadly and accepts a myriad of disciplines in their programs. The Spencer Foundation has a dissertation fellowship for research related to education as well as small research grants and major research grants. For more information on any of these programs, please send an email to the appropriate address: fellows@spencer.org. The Dissertation Fellowship Program is administered directly by the Foundation. The deadline for the 2006 competition is November 1, 2005.

Starr Collaborative Research Grant Program

IREX, Attn: Starr Collaborative Research Grants, 2121 K Street NW, Suite 700, Washington, DC 20037, www.irex.org/programs/starr.

Email: collabgrants@irex.org, fax: 202-628-8189

These grants were created to highlight contemporary issues facing the communities of Eurasia, the Near East, and Asia. The focus of the research program changes every year. This year grants will be awarded for projects focusing on topics of media and the internet. The eligible countries are Armenia, Azerbaijan, Afghanistan, China, Georgia, Iran, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Mongolia, Pakistan, Russia, Tajikistan, Turkey, Turkmenistan, and Uzbekistan. Groups with a minimum of three researchers are eligible to apply. At least one of the researchers must be a U.S. citizen or legal permanent resident and at least two of the researchers must be citizens or current residents of two different countries of the eligible regions at the time of application. Not currently accepting applications; check website for updates.

Turkish Studies Association Halide Edib Adivar Prize

Turkish Studies Association, c/o Prof. Palmira Brummett, U. of Tennessee, Dept. of History, 2611 Dunford Hall, Knoxville, TN 37996. Email: turkishstudies@utk.edu.

The aim of the Adivar Scholarship is to introduce to Turkey students who have not had extensive prior experience in Turkey or Turkish studies. This $1000 scholarship is awarded to a qualified undergraduate in any discipline in support of travel to Turkey for the purpose of study or research. The successful applicant may use the scholarship to support participation in a Turkish language program or a work internship, or for study or research on Turkish culture and society. A scholarship applicant must currently be enrolled in a degree program at an institution of higher learning and must be a citizen or permanent resident of the United States or Canada. Applicants should submit four copies of current curriculum vitae and of a two to four-page statement of purpose, including a clear statement of study or research plans, as well as one official transcript and three copies of the same. Two letters of recommendation from professors familiar with the applicant's work should be forwarded directly to the TSA Secretary. Please contact for further information.

United Nations Association

1779 Massachusetts Ave, NW Suite 610, Washington, DC 20036, (202) 462-3446, fax: (202) -462-3448, E-mail: unadc@unausa.org

The UNA is a private worldwide organization that supports the purpose and activities of the United Nations. The purpose of the association is to increase the effectiveness of U.S. participation in the UN and to keep the UNA in New York informed on actions of Congress and to keep Congress informed on the UN. The internships are open to all Washington universities and operates on an academic-year basis. The deadlines for internship are July 1st (Fall), November 1st (Spring), and March 15th (Summer).

United States Agency for International Development

*1300 Pennsylvania Ave, NW, Washington, DC 20523, information line: (202) 712-0000, Human Resources: (202) 712-5500, fax: (202) 663-3295. www.usaid.gov
<http://www.usaid.gov/about/employment/fellows/index.html>*

The USAID Fellows are intended to develop a pool of experts devoted to international development assistance, provide individuals with practical work experience in the areas of humanitarian assistance and economic and social development, and benefit the agency by providing research, technical advice, and intellectual stimulus. There is no new information for this fellowship; please check the website for updates.

U.S. Department of Education

400 Maryland Ave. SW, Washington, DC 20202, (202) 205-3885 or (202) 401-0559 (Jobline) www.ed.gov

The U.S. Department of Education currently has two fellowship programs available. The first program is the Jacob K. Javits Fellowship Program which provides general financial support to students in graduate school. The second program is the Fulbright-Hays Doctoral Dissertation Research Abroad Program that funds 6-12 months of research abroad (except in Western European countries). Updated deadlines not available—check website for new information.

United States Institute of Peace

1200 17th Street NW, Suite 200, Washington, DC 20036-3011, (202) 429-3842; fax: (202) 429-6063; Email: grant_program@usip.org. www.usip.org

The United States Institute of Peace is accepting applications for its annual solicited grant competition, as well as its unsolicited grant competition. Each year, the Institute offers financial support for research, education and training, and the dissemination of information in the fields of international peace and conflict resolution. In the unsolicited grant program, any project that fits within the Institute's general mandate of international conflict management is eligible. In the solicited grant program, the Institute designates specific topics or themes of special interest to the Institute. Only projects on the themes and topics identified for each competition are eligible. Check website in spring for updated deadline and information.

University of California, Berkeley

215 Moses Hall #2308, University of California, Berkeley, CA 94720-2308, (510) 642-2472; Email: mwatts@socrates.berkeley.edu. <http://globetrotter.berkeley.edu>

The Institute of International Studies at UC Berkeley provides a dissertation fellowship on international and comparative studies as a memorial to John L. Simpson to support research in comparative studies analyzing similarities and differences among societies and states. Research should focus on themes such as: 1) transnational and global economic processes 2) international peace and security issues 3) international environmental issues 4) international demographic trends 5) comparative development modernities. Deadline: April 4, 2005

University of Michigan

1214 South University, 2nd Floor, Ann Arbor, MI 48104-2548, (734) 763-9456, fax: (734) 647-0643, Email: pop.fellows@umich.edu. <http://www.sph.umich.edu/pfps/>.

The University of Michigan's School of Public Health and the United States Agency for International Development were established to train the next generation of leaders in international population assistance. The programs include the Populations Fellows Program, the Population-Environment Fellows Program, the Population Leadership Program, the Historically Black Colleges and Universities Initiative, the Hispanic-serving Institutions Initiative, and the Population, Environmental Change, and Security Initiative. These five components are designed to further the professional development of those building careers in international family planning and reproductive health; exploring the emerging field of population-environment; or engaged in essential dialogue on the relationship among population dynamics, environmental degradation, and international security. Population Fellowships are two-year professional assignments; they are not traditional research fellowships. Application deadlines vary by program—please check website for specifics pertaining to the program of your choice.

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Chad Haines, Rockefeller Residency Program, UCIS, 223 East Franklin Street, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5145, Email: chad_haines@unc.edu. www.ucis.unc.edu/funding/tsrf.html

The University Center for International Studies at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites fellowship applications from scholars, professionals, and artists for our Rockefeller Humanities Residency Program. For 2004-2005, the focus will be "Immigrants, Minorities, and the Specter of Race" and will look at issues such as changing relationships between new immigrants, established immigrant communities, and historical minorities. For more information on this project, please contact Niklaus

Steiner (nsteiner@email.unc.edu or 919-962-6855). Program ended in 2005, check website for updates.

University of Notre Dame

University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556, (574) 631-5000, Email:

Culbertson.1@nd.edu. <http://www.nd.edu/~krocinst/research/rockefellerf04.html>

The Joan B. Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies at the University of Notre Dame currently offers a 2004-05 Rockefeller Foundation Visiting Fellowship on religion and peace studies. Selected fellows will focus on the relationship between religious ethics, human rights, and attitudes of tolerance and intolerance toward the other; religious roles in conflict resolution, including conflict within and between religious traditions; or the contributions of religious actors to post-conflict reconciliation and peace-building. Stipends are $30,000, and housing is provided. Current deadline is not available—check website for updates.

West African Research Center WARC

Edris Makward, 1414 Van Hise Hall, 1220 Linden Drive, Madison, WI, (608) 262-2487;

fax: (608) 265-4151. <http://www.warc-croa.org/grants.htm> or

<http://www.warc-croa.org/>

The West African research Center is offering travel bursaries of up to $2,000 to West African scholars and graduate students (pre- and post-doctoral). These funds may be used to attend and read papers at academic conferences relevant to the applicant's field of research or to visit libraries or archives that contain resources necessary to the applicant's current academic work. Applications should reach the West African Research Center at least three months before the travel date. All materials must be postmarked by December 1, 2005.

The William James Foundation

The William James Foundation; P.O. Box 2098; Reston, VA 20195; John Nelson (703)

801-5287, email: john.nelson@williamjamesfoundation.org.

www.williamjamesfoundation.org.

The William James Foundation, a non-profit organization, seeks out, sponsors, and provides access to start-up capital for new mainstream business enterprises committed to the highest principles of corporate social responsibility. The Foundation is conducting its second annual Socially Responsible Business Plan Competition in the Washington, D.C. area. This competition seeks out, rewards, and encourages young entrepreneurs committed to the highest principles of corporate social responsibility. The competition is open to undergraduate and graduate student teams at American University, Catholic University of America, George Mason University, Georgetown University, George Washington University, Howard University, University of Maryland, and University of the District of Columbia. The deadline for this will be announced, but will probably be in the winter of 2005-06.

Women's Research and Education Institute

WREI Congressional Fellowship Program, Women's Research and Education Institute, 1750 New York Avenue, NW, Suite 350, Washington, DC 20006, (202) 628-0444, fax: (202) 628-0458. <http://www.wrei.org/fellowships/index.htm>

The Women's Research and Education Institute (WREI) awards annual fellowships to a select number of graduate students with a proven commitment to equity for women. WREI Fellows gain practical policymaking experience and graduate credit as they work for one academic year as congressional legislative aides in Washington. Fellows receive stipends for tuition and living expenses. Fellows are selected on the basis of academic competence as well as their demonstrated interest in the public policy process. They are expected to be articulate and adaptable and to have strong writing skills. Only students who are currently in or have recently completed a master's or doctoral program at an accredited institution in the United States are eligible. Deadline has passed. Check website for updates.

Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/fellowships>

The Center awards residential fellowships annually to individuals with outstanding project proposals in areas of the social sciences and humanities on national and international issues that intersect with public policy. Fellows are provided with stipends which include round trip travel, private offices, and access to the Library of Congress, personal computers, and research assistants. Deadline has passed. Check website for updates.

World Bank

1818 H Street NW, Washington, DC 20433, (202) 477-1234, (202) 473-8751, fax: (202) 522-3142, Email: jpaprogram@worldbank.org. <http://lnweb28.worldbank.org/hrs/careers.nst/key/jpa>

The Junior Professional Associates Program, sponsored by the World Bank, is a two-year entry-level work opportunity. In order to be eligible for this program, applicants must be finished with graduate school and not more than 28 years old, in the top ten percent of their class, and fluent in English and at least one other Bank language (French, Spanish, Russian, Arabic, Portuguese, and Chinese). Recruitment for this program is continuous throughout the year.

World Learning

Democracy Fellows Program, World Learning, 1015 15th Street, NW, Suite 750, Washington, DC 20005, fax: (202) 408-5397, Email: dfp.info@worldlearning.org. http://www.usaid.gov/about/employment/fellows/fp_wldem.html

World Learning's Democracy Fellowship Program seeks applicants for a mid-level (or possibly junior) democracy fellowship, to be based in USAID Washington, D.C. Requirements include US citizenship, an MA or PhD in Political Science or International Development, regional expertise on Africa, a solid background in research and/or support of civil society programs, and familiarity with USAID democracy and governance programs. The fellow will be part of a team assisting USAID in managing its civil society programs. S/he will also provide field support to overseas USAID missions, assist with USAID's technical leadership agenda in civil society, and advise on cross-sectional linkages and opportunities within USAID. Requires periodic overseas travel assignments of varying length. Fellowship will start as soon as the selected candidate receives a U.S. national security clearance. Ten fellowships in the amount of $30,000 will be awarded. Applicants must have a J.D. or an M.A. degree by the time the program begins. For application materials, please send resume or CV to the address listed above. Applications accepted on a continuing basis; check website for available fellowships.

Zero Population Growth

1400 16th Street, NW, Suite 320, Washington, DC 20036, (202) 332-2200, fax: (202) 332-2302, E-mail: zpgactivist@igc.org. www.populationconnection.org/employment

Zero Population Growth (ZPG) is a national nonprofit membership organization that works to mobilize broad public support for a sustainable balance of the Earth's people, environment, and resources. ZPG's programs inform public opinion and influence public initiatives on matters related to population, the environment, the status of women, and the quality of life for all through action-oriented programs. ZPG offers fellowships in the Washington D.C. area for college graduates, graduate students, and undergraduates with a special interest in this issue. Each fellow will work with a specific department and one fellowship is available in each of the following departments: Field and Outreach, Government Relations, Media/Communications, and Population Education. For descriptions of each fellowship, please visit the employment website noted above. The fellowships are offered in two 6 month sessions. Applications for July session are due April 15 and for January session by October 15